Welcome!

I'll always remember the night Leslie Grantham returned to our screens as Dirty Den, after 14 years away. It was – by sheer luck, not any strategic planning on our part – the same night as the 2003 Inside Soap Awards. The event was well underway and the drink was flowing. When we turned down the music to screen the final minutes of the episode, we thought most people would carry on with their chattering. But it quickly fell silent as the crowd realised what they were seeing. Soon the anticipation was electric. Then, there he was – Den emerged from the shadows, rasping "Ello, Princess" to cheers of pure joy. It just felt like the greatest soap moment ever.

"It was the greatest soap moment ever!"

It's easy to forget how much EastEnders owes to Den – and Leslie – with off-screen dramas soon eclipsing his on-screen achievements. But quite simply, Leslie put EastEnders on the map. We pay tribute to him on p46.

DIE?

Young Jack Webster is rushed to hospital suffering from sepsis this week – and soon he's in the intensive care unit fighting for his life!

The poor lad complains that he's not feeling well, following a recent fall where he cut himself. But his harassed sister Sophie sends him to school, unaware of how much danger her little brother is in...

"It all happens so fast!" wails Brooke Vincent, who plays Sophie. "It's not until they get to the hospital that the doctors mention sepsis – Sophie doesn't really know what it means, but things are moving quickly, and she's terrified. She and Kevin are told the next 24 hours will be crucial, and they're just left clinging to that."

Sophie's been left in charge of her brother while their dad is away, and with so much on her plate, she doesn't give it much thought when he complains about feeling poorly. But things soon escalate after the lad becomes very sick.

"Sophie feels awful when Jack gets sent home from school," confirms Brooke. "She takes him to the medical centre, and they put it down to a virus and advise her to make sure he gets some rest. So Sophie asks Faye to watch him, and goes back to work."

"Faye and Seb are looking after Jack when they find him groaning and really drowsy," continues the star. "As they carry him out of No 13, Ali sees them – and tells them that they need to get Jack to hospital immediately!"

As Ali calls an ambulance, it soon transpires that Jack's condition is very serious indeed. By this point, Kevin has raced to be by his son's side – and Sally and Tim are also at the hospital when doctors deliver the news that Jack has sepsis.

"Jack is sedated and in intensive care," Brooke tells us. "And once sepsis is confirmed, it becomes clear his life hangs in the balance. Sophie is praying that he pulls through – so when they hear he isn't responding to the antibiotics as well as they'd hoped, they're heartbroken."

"Kevin's trying to be strong," she adds. "He won't leave Jack's bedside, and

Ali knows something is seriously wrong as soon as he lays eyes on Jack they're just hoping for an improvement. Sophie is devastated, and she can't shake the feeling that Kevin somehow blames her for what's happened."

While there's no way that Sophie could have known just how ill her young brother was, that doesn't stop her from being riddled with guilt. So as the family faces an agonising wait for news on Jack's fate, she can't help beating herself up over his condition.

"Sophie blames herself for failing to realise the seriousness of Jack's illness," sighs Brooke. "She feels a mixture of shock and fear. It seems to escalate so quickly, and she's lost with all the medical jargon. Sophie's trying to hold it together to support Kevin and Jack, but her emotions are all over the place."

Many viewers might not even have heard of sepsis, let alone know what warning signs to look out for. And Brooke herself confesses that before she started researching this storyline, she had no idea just what a serious condition it can turn out to be.

"If you've never been affected by sepsis, you don't necessarily know the ins and outs," she admits. "It's very confusing to know what it is and how to spot it. But a perk of being in Corrie is it gives us the platform to tackle everyday struggles that people face – so this has been an important story to play."

Sarah Ellis

The blame game!

Sophie lashes out at Rana...

Sophie may be berating herself over her little sibling's illness – but as the week draws to a close, it's the medical centre staff she's angry with! After Dr Gaddas fails to correctly diagnose Jack, Sophie feels the medic is culpable – and instigates legal proceedings...

"It's actually Rana who ends up in the firing line," reckons Brooke. "She asks how Jack is and Sophie flies at her! All her emotions come pouring out, and when Rana tries to defend the medical centre, Sophie slaps her.

"Her head is all over the place," she adds. "It then pushes Sophie to see Adam, and seek legal advice about suing the medical centre."

Carmel's funeral agony!

WILL SHE ATTEND TRAGIC SHAKIL'S SERVICE?

Devastated Carmel looks set to miss Shakil's funeral this week – after trying to cancel the plans made by the rest of the Kazemi family.

In utter turmoil, Carmel becomes obsessed with making a success of her youth-club initiative, and refuses Kush's pleas to help him sort the arrangements for his little brother's service. So when she later declares that nobody is welcome at the funeral except her, Kush is forced to take a stand. Will Carmel boycott Shakil's final goodbye?

"The Kazemis are in a living nightmare right now, but Carmel's behaviour is pushing them all to the edge," shares our Square insider. "Kush has spent weeks being terrified about what she might do to herself, as he can't seem to reach her. It's a horrible ordeal for him to have to plan Shakil's funeral alone, yet Carmel just refuses to be a part of it. When she has this meltdown, and says the funeral should just be her and Shakil, Kush loses it with her. She's not the only person who misses Shakil, and they all need to grieve."

For Carmel, it's all about the youth club right now, as she believes it's a way to help get teenagers off the streets and out of danger. Although Shakil's friends think it's a bit lame, they agree to go to the launch event to support Carmel. But after she interrogates them about what's going on in their lives, they are all shaken.

It's Keegan who snaps first, and tells Carmel that this idea is just a crutch to help distract herself from her grief. She's hurt by his words, but doubles down on the youth-club planning and starts to Carmel's behaviour is pushing the Kazemi family to the edge..."

Walford locals gather to say goodbye to one of their own

Following the showdown, Carmel marches across to Jay at the undertakers' and instructs him to cancel all tributes and tell everyone they are not welcome at the funeral. That is until Kush steps in, who insists the day will go ahead as they've planned, and readies himself to join brother Darius and their dad Umar in the mourning party.

Meanwhile, Denise tries to find Carmel and convince her to pay her respects. Can she reach her devastated friend before it's too late?

Shaki's close pals Bex and Keegan deliver a eulogy

Kush is supported by his brother and his dad – but where's his mum?

The horror of the stabbing continues to have a big impact on jittery Keegan this week, as his loved ones become concerned about his mental health.

The terrified youngster is convinced that he'll be attacked again, and feels increasingly anxious while he tries to get his life back on track. Having been the victim of such a vicious stabbing, it's no wonder that Keegan is on edge and finding it hard to control his fear of being jumped by knife-wielding thugs again.

The problem is that it's making him overreact to people surprising him for innocent reasons, such as when Carmel tries to help him this week after hearing he's in a bad place. Will Keegan face up to his problems and try to find a solution, or will he turn to illegal means to feel safe?

organise the second event the next night. Although Bex and Louise reluctantly attend, the club ends in disaster, and Carmel is left reeling. Worse still, she is confronted by Keegan, who has some very harsh words for her about not doing anything for Shakil's funeral – sparking a fiery confrontation.

"There's so much rage inside both Carmel and Keegan – they're being self-destructive," says our spy. "Keegan can't believe that Carmel would let down Shakil like this, and he can't hold back how he feels. But he's so harsh that it triggers an emotional avalanche in Carmel, and things get very nasty indeed."

"I don't think anything like this has ever been done before"

EASTENDERS AIRS A GROUNDBREAKING SPECIAL EPISODE...

Poor Shakil died in hospital after being stabbed outside the Vic

There's a very special episode of EastEnders this week, centering entirely on Shakil's funeral. While it's not that unusual for the soap to focus on a single story or event, for the first time the episode will also include a true-life element, with viewers hearing first-hand accounts from those who have lost someone to knife crime. We spoke to Davood Ghadami, who plays Kush, about the trailblazing instalment...

How did you feel when you found out that we'd hear from the loved ones of victims in this episode?

My initial thought was that it was a very bold and incredibly brave thing for EastEnders – and especially the contributors – to be doing. I have never heard of anything like this being done before, so I was intrigued to see how it would play out.

EastEnders has done something extraordinary in this episode. It is important, not just because it will be memorable and different, but because it shows – for the first time – a direct connection, and comparison, between our stories and ordinary people's realities.

What was it like filming with the relatives who contributed?

It was an unforgettable experience hearing them talk about their loved ones, and by the end of the day I think we all felt that what we were doing with these episodes was something remarkable.

And how is Kush feeling ahead of Shakil's funeral?

Kush's main focus since the death of his brother has been his mum, Carmel. But he can't hide his disappointment in her, for not wanting to plan Shakil's funeral. Kush feels the pressure to arrange all the most important and individual aspects of the funeral himself, and he feels that's something his mum should have wanted to do for her son. Although he is obviously sympathetic to her emotional state, he cannot help but feel frustrated.

How have you found being involved in this storyline?

As an actor, it's great to be part of a hard-hitting story. I think EastEnders has been bold in showing this horrifying issue manifesting itself in Walford. It has helped me understand – and hopefully the viewers at home too – the devastating effect that knife crime has on the friends and families of those young boys and girls. It has certainly had a huge impact on me.

Tom Spilsbury

BACK TO REALITY

EastEnders boss John Yorke reveals that it was the sheer power of what he heard during the show's research that saw the episode develop into something special...

"The more stories we heard, the more that we felt others should hear them too," he shares. "The episode evolved into something unique for EastEnders – real families telling their own devastating stories alongside our characters. We've tried to do justice to a very difficult, tragic and emotive subject – and with huge help from the families of real-life victims and the support groups they work with, we hope we've come some way to getting that enormity across."

EMMERDALE | ITV MONDAY

Daz finds Amelia!

BUT THE COPS STILL THINK HE'S RESPONSIBLE FOR HER KIDNAP...

Daz's prayers are answered this week, when he heads off for a showdown with Amelia's abductor Beth – and comes face to face with his missing daughter!

The Spencer clan have been going out of their minds with worry since 11-year-old Amelia disappeared without trace, while viewers later discovered that she has been staying with Beth – a girl who befriended her in an online chat room.

Unbeknown to vulnerable Amelia, Beth's ulterior motive for helping her to escape the stress of family life quickly became disturbingly clear after she made an anonymous call to Daz and demanded a ransom. However, when her meeting with him this week doesn't go according to plan, Beth decides to do a runner and Daz gives chase – leading him straight to Amelia...

"Daz eventually manages to catch up with Beth, and he stumbles across this situation unfolding between her and Amelia," reveals actor Mark Jordon, who plays him. "He's apprehensive at first, worried she might be injured, but is soon overwhelmed to see her. Daz is so emotionally drained by it all that he has a bit of a breakdown. He's so happy and relieved that she's okay."

At the start of the week, Daz is preparing to meet with Beth who has contacted him using a voice-altering device, so he has no idea who he is dealing with. He has been desperately trying to raise the money she has demanded for Amelia's safe return, while his brother Dan and partner Kerry believe Daz is guilty of abduction.

Daz can do nothing to convince everyone of his innocence in all this

"He does try to tell the others that he's received this ransom call, but they just disbelieve him," says Mark. "At this stage, no matter how much Daz pleads his innocence, everything about Amelia's disappearance points back to him. Even Kerry, who is the main source of trying to keep the family bonded, has turned on him – so there really is no one left for Daz to confide in."

With that, Daz resolves to arm himself with a spanner before heading off to meet Beth, still clueless as to what

"The police still firmly believe Daz was behind Amelia going missing"

Amelia's captor Beth has demanded a ransom from Daz for her release

LAW AND DISORDER!

Mark prefers playing a baddy to a copper...

For fans of Heartbeat, seeing star Mark on the wrong side of the law as Daz in Emmerdale has been a rather huge leap, considering the 15 years that he spent playing a law-abiding policeman in Aidsfield.

"People are still very complimentary about Phil Bellamy and how adorable, smiley and twinkly he was," grins Mark. "However, with Daz we're starting to see a darker side to him, and I have realised that I love playing a bad boy. I'm not using my dimples quite as much as I did on Heartbeat!"

he's about to walk into. So with Daz by no means a man with a plan, the situation with Beth spirals out of control.

"Daz flies by the seat of his pants and always has," sighs Mark. "He arrives at the meeting point and assumes Amelia's kidnapper is male, so he's looking at various blokes walking past and prepares himself, convinced that it is going to be one of them. But then this small girl appears demanding the money, and Daz is so shocked that he forgets to hide his weapon as he is conversing with her. Beth cottons on, and runs away."

Daz's mission doesn't end there, though, as his pursuit of Beth leads him straight to Amelia. Viewers will have to wait to see what happens to the youngster next, as Beth orders her to flee – but in a shock turn of events, Daz is arrested for Amelia's kidnap!

"After finding Amelia, Daz thinks that everything will go back to normal, and the police can start investigating why she was taken," shares Mark. "But no – the authorities still firmly believe that he's the one behind the whole thing, and he is swiftly marched straight back to the station!"

Will Dan, Kerry and Bernice believe Daz when he insists he isn't to blame, and will the truth behind Beth's actions be revealed? Or is Daz set to be charged with Amelia's kidnap?

CORONATION STREET

Brace yourselves for heartbreaking scenes in Corrie, as Sean's financial situation becomes so desperate that he is forced to beg for money and food on the streets.

Our paparazzi shots of star Antony Cotton filming his character's new storyline show Sean sitting on the pavement cradling an empty coffee cup, in the hope that passers-by will spare him some change...

"It still feels inconceivable that someone with Sean's support network would end up in this situation," notes our cobbles spy. "But it just goes to show that anyone can fall on hard times."

Previous hints to Sean's life unravelling have included him sleeping rough in a tent, and sporting nasty facial injuries after being attacked in a public toilet. It's unclear whether his friends back on the cobbles are aware of his situation by the time he resorts to pleading with strangers for cash – but it looks as if Sean's ex-boyfriend Billy might be the one to come to his rescue.

The pair will bump into one another when the Street vicar volunteers at a community food drive for the homeless. When he spots Sean in the queue, Billy has it out with his former flame. Can he convince Sean to let him help?

"Sean is clearly going to allow his pride to stand in the way," says our source. "It's extra hard for him to accept support from Billy, given how their relationship ended when Billy left him for Todd Grimshaw. However, he's foolish if he thinks Billy will give up trying to help."

Billy's tough love could give Sean food for thought after he too appears to pop on an apron and joins him in helping out. Will this be the moment that he finds the courage to turn his life around?

Will Sean be too pig-headed to accept help from old flame Billy?

Back to the 80s

UKTV Drama is to air reruns of EastEnders right from the very first episode on the channel this summer. So, for any millennials wondering what hairstyles Ian and Sharon had over 30 years ago, now is the opportunity to find out!

Love wins

As promised by Ray Meagher (Alf), Home and Away will screen its first gay storyline in nine years, when John and Marilyn's foster child Ty makes a move on his friend

Ryder. The plot will kick off on Channel 5 on 12 July.

New McQueen!

Watch out Chester, for ex-Shameless star Moya Brady is joining Hollyoaks as Goldie and Sylver's mum, Breda! "Breda doesn't have a lot of fear for authority," grins Moya, who also played Roberta Cryer in The Bill. "She's a strong and colourful individual, who's like a tigress for her kids!"

COUGAR STREET!

Check out Sophie's new girlfriend...

We previously reported in Inside Soap that Sophie Webster would catch the eye of an older woman – and now we can reveal who is set to play her.

Fans of Doctors will recognise the gorgeous brunette as actress Stirling Gallacher, who is best known for playing Dr Georgina Woodson for six years in the daytime medical drama, before popping up briefly in EastEnders last year as the Mayor of Walford!

"Word has it that Stirling will play a lawyer who falls for Sophie as she is giving her mum Sally legal advice," our cobbles spy tells us. "Much to the disapproval of Sally, the pair will embark on a passionate fling!"

The age gap between Sophie and her new flame is bound to set the cat among the pigeons on the Street, and send the local gossips into overdrive. As if the busybodies haven't got enough to talk about already!

Soap SPY...

Max & Rainie at war!

EASTENDERS | BBC1 THURSDAY

THEIR FRAGILE ALLIANCE IS IN DANGER OF FALLING APART...

Sham couple Max and Rainie hit a very rocky patch in their marriage this week – will it cause their nefarious scheme to grab baby Abi to unravel, too?

Relations between the pair have been noticeably strained for a while, so Rainie explains to Max that they need to seem more convincing as a couple, or people will suspect what they are getting up to.

“Rainie’s on edge because if there’s one person who really knows Max, it’s his brother Jack – and they’re living with him!” reasons our EastEnders insider. “And if he works out that she and Max aren’t legit, then it won’t be long before others do too. So Rainie suggests that Jack and his girlfriend Mel join her and Max for dinner, so they can have a proper couples’ night – surely a recipe for disaster!”

As they begin their meal, it’s soon clear that Max is getting agitated by Rainie’s over-the-top ‘perfect wife’ routine, so he pulls her to one side, and tells her to calm down and stop overcompensating. But when Jack and Mel go upstairs to give the bickering pair a bit of space, Rainie grabs Max and full-on snogs him!

The next morning, Max reminds Rainie that they have to be fully focused on their custody battle, and not allow themselves to be distracted by anything else. However, trouble is soon brewing elsewhere, as Martin lets slip to Donna that he and Stacey gave Max and

Scheming Rainie invites Mel and Jack for dinner with her and Max

Rainie a glowing reference to aid them in their cause – leaving Donna furious!

“You might wonder why Donna would be so upset,” ponders our mole. “Well, don’t forget that Abi was her best mate. The last two people Donna’s dead friend would have wanted bringing up

“Donna tears a strip off Rainie, telling her she’s not fit to be a parent!”

Rainie's actions cause bother with some of the locals her daughter would be her deceitful dad and junkie auntie! What's more, Donna harbours desires to one day be a mum herself. It makes her sick to see these two charlatans being given a chance – so she tears a strip off Rainie, telling her she's not fit to be a parent! That's as good as declaring war..."

Rainie soon gets her own back by planting some stolen cigarettes on Donna's stall, before grassing her up to the market inspector. When Mr Lister arrives to investigate, Donna realises she's been hoodwinked, and heads over to No 27 to confront Rainie.

"Max stands up for his wife, and sends Donna packing – but once she's gone, he turns on Rainie himself," reveals our sneak. "He vows that she won't get a penny from him if she messes up like that again!"

Can this unlikely couple ever find a way to work together to get what they both want?

Tom Spilsbury

WHAT DOES RAINIE WANT?

We ponder her motivations...

MONEY?

Max has promised Rainie cash if their plan succeeds. While the Rainie of old would be desperate to use this money to fund her drug habit, she now seems to be clean. So although she'd be happy to pick up any dividends on offer, what else might she have in mind?

LOVE?

While she previously claimed not to have any interest in Max romantically, Rainie makes a bold move by kissing him this week. But does she really find him irresistible? She wouldn't be the first to succumb to his charms – but is she just messing with his head?

A CHILD?

Donna's jibes about her unsuitability to be a mum clearly cut Rainie deep. So is she, like Max, trying to make up for her past mistakes? Rainie is baby Abi's great-aunt, so maybe she thinks this is her best chance to become a parent. Could this be her way of proving she's over her past problems?

REVENGE?

Perhaps the real key to Rainie's motivations is her sister, Tanya. She was always jealous of Tanya's 'perfect' life, while Rainie struggled with her addictions. So now she's the new Mrs Max Branning, and near to being the foster-mum of Tanya's grandkid, might she soon have everything that once belonged to her sister?

Sarah whacks Ryan, thinking he's attacked her daughter!

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

Bethany freaks out - and Sarah lashes out!

RYAN'S PURSUIT OF BETHANY ENDS IN VIOLENCE, AS HER MUM LOSES CONTROL...

Ryan unwittingly offers himself up as a punch bag for the Platt women this week, after Bethany freaks out when he makes a move on her – and then her mum Sarah wallops him unconscious!

Violence erupts when Bethany agrees to a date with the ladies' man, who thinks his luck is in when she joins him back at his place and they begin to kiss passionately.

However, it's clear that Bethany is not ready for a physical relationship and is still deeply scarred from her sick grooming ordeal. She suddenly loses it with Ryan, who Sarah hastily assumes has forced himself on her daughter...

"Sarah doesn't know anything about Bethany's date, so the first thing she sees when she arrives at Victoria Court is Bethany running down the hallway and out of the flats with her blouse undone," explains actress Tina O'Brien, who plays the protective mum. "Bethany is hysterical, and the next thing Sarah sees is Ryan emerging from the flat with his top off. She jumps to the wrong conclusion, not realising that Bethany has suffered a panic attack and run away."

Haunted by the knowledge that her daughter has been to hell and back as a result of sexual abuse, Sarah's motherly instincts take over as she immediately confronts Ryan.

"Sarah goes into the flat to ask him about what's just happened," reveals Tina. "He is very confused by it all, and when he flippantly remarks that Bethany is a tease, Sarah sees red, slaps Ryan and shoves him. But she doesn't realise that Ryan has fallen and hit his head quite badly."

As Ryan lies motionless, oblivious Sarah heads off to find Bethany – and is completely mortified after her daughter relays what actually happened between them.

"Sarah feels really guilty for overreacting the way that she did," sighs Tina. "The problem is, though, she has no idea that her actions have had such serious consequences."

Back at Michelle's flat, she and Robert finally return home following their ordeal in the Bistro freezer (see p27) and are horrified to find Ryan out cold, so call him an ambulance.

"The first Sarah knows of it is when she sees Ryan being brought out of Victoria Court on a stretcher," reports Tina.

Sarah sees Bethany running out with her blouse undone!"

Bethany suffers a panic attack just as she and Ryan start to get physical

Poor Bethany is still haunted from being groomed by Nathan

"Craig assumes that Bethany must have hit him, but she insists she didn't. Meanwhile, Sarah can't understand how her slapping Ryan could have resulted in his injury, so she is really confused."

Thankfully Ryan regains consciousness, and Michelle is relieved that he is going to be okay. But in a strange twist, he tells the police that he can't remember who attacked him.

"Sarah is surprised when she gets to the hospital and Ryan shows no signs of remembering what actually happened," shares Tina. "She can't pretend that nothing happened between them, so she tells Ryan what she did and apologises to him."

After she explains to Ryan that Bethany was a victim of grooming and it has made her overly protective, Sarah hopes that they can move past the incident. However, there's a reason why he chose not to shop Sarah to the police, and Sarah can't believe her ears when she finds out why...

"Ryan's reaction shocks her – it's not what she expected at all," grimaces Tina. "It's a real game-changer for Sarah. She has a big decision to make."

Just what is Ryan playing at, and is Sarah set to pay a high price for her actions?

Defiant Sarah lies to her doctors this week, so that she can go to the school dance – despite the fact that she's dangerously ill.

After collapsing and being diagnosed with heart failure, Sarah's condition is being carefully monitored, and she's finding it hard to accept. She's determined to prove doctors wrong, and demands a second opinion on her current state of health. But when her new consultant reaches the same conclusion as her original doctor, Sarah is devastated. However, she's determined that nothing will prevent her from going to the dance.

"Sarah just wants to put on a nice frock and enjoy a night of being a normal teenager," explains our Dales spy. "She's had to cope with so much during her life, and now she's facing another terrifying fight for survival. Her hopes that this is all a terrible mistake have been shattered – though Sarah refuses to give up her chance to enjoy the big night out."

Naturally, Debbie and the doctor are nervous about Sarah's ability to handle an evening out when she's not well. But the headstrong girl lies about how she's feeling so they'll agree to let her go. However, when she walks up the stairs and is left out of breath, it's clear that Sarah's playing a dangerous game.

Despite all these warning signs, Sarah excitedly gets ready and prepares for a fun night. But shortly after she's dropped off at the dance, her breathing difficulties kick in. Concerned relative Samson notices Sarah in discomfort and offers to go home with her so she can rest, though she refuses and struggles on.

"It's heartbreaking because Sarah is so fixated on making it through the night that she could do herself serious harm," warns our insider. "All this

ROSS DEMANDS THAT CAIN SIGN OVER HIS BUSINESS...

Ross issues his arch-nemesis Cain with a shocking ultimatum this week – hand over the garage to him, or he'll shop Debbie to the police!

Ever since Ross found out that Debbie was the one who triggered the acid attack that's left him scarred for life, the Dingle family has been on tenterhooks, wondering if he'll report her to the cops. Up until now, Ross has agreed to keep what he knows under wraps for the sake of Debbie's children. However, he's finally come to the decision that he wants something in return for his silence...

Whether Sarah can make it through the night or not, Debbie must face some harsh realities about her daughter. The doctor has stark news for her about Sarah's long-term chances, and it doesn't look good for the poor lass. While her family has always known she faces a lifetime of medical problems, they continue to pray for Sarah's survival. Should Debbie hope for the best, or are her worst fears about to come true?

Weatherfield poisoning horror!

A REVENGE ATTACK LEAVES ONE BELOVED RESIDENT FIGHTING FOR HER LIFE...

Simon is remorseful about his actions and trying to make amends

Simon's involvement with the local gang looks set to have fatal consequences this week, when vengeful gang leader Tyler leaves poisoned food out for the Barlow family dog, Eccles.

The beloved pooch is delighted to find a delicious sausage sandwich from Roy's Rolls left for her in the Barlow back garden, and feasts on the meaty treat. But Eccles' joy is short-lived as she collapses in agony alone, and is later found by horrified Toyah. It's a race against time to get the mutt to the vets' – and Simon soon finds out the sinister reason that she's suffering.

"The sausage sandwich has been laced with slug pellets that have had a terrible effect on poor Eccles," sighs our Corrie spy. "Simon is sickened when he discovers how it happened because he knows exactly who did this and why. It was his former friend, thug Tyler, who has vowed to get even with Simon after he implicated him in his crimes. Having done the right thing, Simon is now being forced to pay a massive price."

Following the shame of his court appearance last week, Simon is attempting to make amends with the people he hurt. Despite the fact that Roy is very disappointed in him for being manipulated into robbing the café and being part of the attack against vulnerable Flora, he is letting the tearaway teen work for free in the café to compensate. However, when Simon is serving, Tyler drops in to tell him that he wants to call a truce – and all it's going to cost Simon is a free sausage sandwich. After the threats violent Tyler made against him, and what happened that fateful night when the gang leader attacked poor Flora, Simon is bemused by the idea that this could really be an end to it. But he decides to take Tyler at his word and hands over the sausage sandwich anyway. Sadly for Eccles, this is just a cheap trick, as vile Tyler goes directly from the café and slides the food under the gate at No 1.

"The message is clear – Simon and his loved ones are not safe," says our snitch. "Tyler has proved time and again that he possesses no morals and he doesn't care who he hurts. By getting involved with the gang and then leaving, Simon's broken the code, and Tyler won't let him just walk away without suffering the consequences. By choosing to tell the truth, Simon has ended up putting himself and all who matter to him in the firing line."

As Ken tries to nurse Eccles back to health, Simon worries about what will happen next. Will Tyler decide to target his grandad Ken, dad Peter, mum Leanne, or cousin Amy next? Worried Si knows for sure that this is not over, and that Tyler intends to make him regret the day that he turned against the gang. Will Simon make a stupid decision in order to protect his family, or will he bravely stand up to Tyler and report what he did to Eccles?

Hayley's secret discovered!

JEAN IS FURIOUS WHEN SHE FINDS OUT THAT HAYLEY IS USING CHARLIE'S CAB ILLEGALLY...

There's trouble for pregnant Hayley this week, when Jean discovers her secret! However, it's not the one that you might expect...

The intrigue begins when Jean goes to answer Hayley's phone, but finds a pile of money that she's hidden away. What has the resourceful lady been up to?

"Jean is very suspicious as to how Hayley has managed to get hold of such a lot of cash when she doesn't even have a job," ponders our Square insider. "You can just imagine the

Although Hayley agrees to Jean's terms, she clearly has no intention of giving up on her secret money-spinner. But when Jean clocks on to the fact that Hayley is carrying on with her secret service anyway, she takes extreme measures, and hides the keys to the taxi! However, Hayley isn't to be thwarted so easily, and manages to steal them back. She then goes to pick up another customer in the cab, leaving angry Jean in her wake.

"Remember, Hayley is now several months pregnant," our spy reminds us. "No one in Walford knows about it yet, but it's only a matter of time before people start to twig. Hayley realises that she has to make as much cash as she can, so that she can give her little'un the best possible start in life. But this dogged determination could lead her into trouble..."

Later on, Hayley has an encounter with Carmel, who is David proposes to Shona!

WHAT WILL HER ANSWER BE?

CORONATION STREET | ITV WEDNESDAY

There's a shock in store for Shona this week, when David proposes to her while she's working a shift in the café.

Surprised anyone would consider Roy's Rolls the right place for such a romantic moment, Shona is bemused by her boyfriend's crazy suggestion. Although they are stronger than ever now David has confided in her about his rape ordeal, Shona knows this isn't the right moment to make a lifelong commitment. So she tells David that she's not willing to give him an answer right now, insisting that the timing is all wrong and they shouldn't rush into anything.

"This is a blow for David," admits our Corrie insider. "He believes Shona is the woman he will spend the rest of his life with. But she's adamant that the stress of the past few months means they should just carry on as they are. David has to accept what Shona is saying, but it's clear the trauma of what's happened to him has had a lasting effect."

That much is obvious as he begins his community service

He can handle a bit of banter, but David worries about getting on the wrong side of the lads, and so he joins in when they start making fun of Billy's sexuality and cracking homophobic jokes.

"Sadly, Billy overhears their taunts and is disappointed when David takes part," sighs our spy. "But as he confronts David, Billy can't believe his reaction. Instead of the usual wisecrack or sarky putdown, David confides in Billy about everything he's gone through – and tells him how Josh drugged and raped him."

Horried to hear the full story, Billy is quick to offer David support and friendship, and suggests David seek professional counselling to work through his feelings. Of course, Shona's been telling him to do the same thing for weeks, but hearing it from Billy strikes a chord with David – and he's appreciative of the kindly vicar's guidance.

If David is to get through this, he needs to talk – so will he take Shona and Billy's advice and start therapy?

WILL THEIR ARDOUR END UP PERMANENTLY COOLED?

Lusty Robert and Michelle are locked in a freezer this week – after attempting to have some private time in the Bistro cold storage.

The couple have no privacy at their flat now that Michelle's sons Ryan and Ali have both moved in with them, and it's taking a toll on their sex life. So when Robert suggests taking some time out in the freezer room alone, Michelle agrees – but it's not long before disaster strikes.

What they don't realise is that cheapskate Ryan has snuck into the Bistro to nick ingredients to make Bethany a romantic dinner. Seeing no one about in the kitchen and pantry, Ryan thinks he's home free – but in his haste to steal the food, he nudges shut the freezer door. What began as a bit of fun soon stops when Robert and Michelle realise they are locked in, and the temperature is arctic. Not only are they cold and frightened, but no one is about in the Bistro to hear their screams.

Hours later, Daniel and Kate arrive to hear banging on the other side of the freezer door and the cries of their frozen bosses. They can't believe it as Robert and Michelle emerge and head straight home to thaw out. But when they get there, another horror awaits them. Just what has happened to Ryan since he locked them in?

Long live the NHS!

HOLBY PAYS TRIBUTE TO BRITAIN'S HEALTH SERVICE AS IT TURNS 70...

“Why do we love the NHS? Because it's a beautiful thing – a health service that is available to all, from cradle to grave,” discuss Ric and Serena in the opening moments of this week's Holby City, as the medical drama dedicates an episode to marking the 70th birthday of our National Health Service.

The plan is for the hospital staff to attend a party in honour of the special occasion, but in typical Holby fashion, the celebrations are put on hold when a major incident plunges the team into action. Meanwhile, the voices of some of our favourite surgeons play over the drama, as each of them takes a moment to explain what Britain's healthcare system means to them...

“I think we all thought it would be a bit odd if we didn't have an episode to acknowledge it,” explains actress Catherine Russell, who plays Serena. “It's a tricky one as we filmed it four months in advance, and one never knows what news is going to hit the stands in terms of our poor underfunded and under-cherished NHS.

However, it was essential we did it, because of course the NHS is the star of the show.”

It's all hands on deck at the hospital, as the team receives an influx of critically injured patients after the roof of an indoor market collapses. As the team works to save lives over the course of the episode, Serena is reunited with a former patient, Lennie – played by ex-EastEnders star Gary Beadle (Paul Trueman) – whose life she saved 30 years ago when he was a troublesome teen who had been stabbed in a nightclub. Fast forward to the present day, and Lennie is a reformed character – a father-of-five with a career as a youth worker.

After Lennie steps in to help Xavier – who is assaulted by another patient – he's rushed into surgery with heavy internal bleeding. As Ric helps, Serena battles to save Lennie again when he admits that she is the reason he turned his life around.

Can Serena overcome the odds and bring Lennie back from the brink for a second time? And will she and hospital stalwart Ric have earned their celebratory cocktail by the end of the shift?

James' anguish!

WILL HE FIGURE OUT WHO SET HIM UP FOR KYLE'S MURDER?

James is on a mission to find out who framed him for killing Kyle this week – and he comes to the conclusion that it must have been Sami!

A special flashback episode will finally fill viewers in on the sketchy past between the Nightingales and the Maaliks, and explain why Sami has been so desperate to get his wicked revenge on James...

"Myself, David [Easter, aka Mac] and Lysette [Antony, who plays Marnie] have been transported back some 15 years," explains Gregory Finnegan, who plays James. "It was really exciting, and we had a lot of fun filming it. Viewers will find out a lot about the root of the abuse from Mac, and a lot of the backstory regarding Sami and the Maalik connection – it all ties in. So we find out the reasons why Sami is after James now, and also the pressure that Mac was putting on him at the time."

Back in the present day, James has hit the bottle, and is desperately drawing up a list of people who have it in for him. But will he be able to figure out who concocted this cruel revenge plan?

"James starts to suspect he's been set up, and creates a 'rogues gallery' in his flat," reveals Greg. "He spends a fair amount of time trying to piece things together, going through all the people who he feels have an axe to grind. He doesn't have a clue who it could be – he's completely bewildered by all of this."

"It's while he's churning over events from the past that he discovers the link to Sami," continues the actor. "The viewers will see that it's

James has been seeking comfort in alcohol

James has it all mapped out – but can he get to the truth in time?

something he never thought about, it's not something that registered at the time – but suddenly he has that memory and it all fits together."

As the penny finally drops for James, he heads into work where he proceeds to search Sami's office for evidence that he's the one behind this vendetta. Whether he'll get the answers he needs remains to be seen – but Greg reckons that while Sami's actions will make James furious, it's Kyle's betrayal that will really sting.

“James goes through all the people who he feels have an axe to grind!”

"I would imagine he'd be a little peeved about that!" chuckles the star. "I don't think that he'll take Kyle's involvement very well at all. James really did feel genuine love for Kyle and is terrified by the prospect that he might be dead. He's at the point of breaking down right now – but whether he'll ever find out the truth, we'll just have to wait and see..."

ELLIE'S PREGNANT!

She's having Sami's baby...

This twisted vendetta between Sami and James is about to get even more complicated after Ellie collapses at work – and a trip to the hospital reveals that she is pregnant!

The fact that she is expecting Sami's child will bond the Maaliks and the Nightingales together forever, whether they want to be or not. However, James could be about to get his own baby bombshell, as the flashbacks reveal that he too may have a child out there somewhere...

"That would be earth-shattering news for James," confirms Greg. "He's never had an inkling that he might be a father, and I think it would go against every fibre in his body. I don't think he'd know what to do – it would certainly be shocking."

LEAVE DAZ ALONE!

I feel so sorry for Emmerdale's Daz – I used to think that he was useless, but the way Dan has blamed him for Amelia disappearing is so harsh. Daz is clearly just as worried about Amelia as Dan is, yet his brother is lashing out at him for no reason. Dan needs to use his brain and start working with Daz, not shout at him all the time. in EastEnders is really interesting, though I can't help but think that Mick is going to get himself into trouble. Danny Dyer is playing Mick's most recent troubles very well, and I'm glad he's getting some screen time away from the Carters so we can see him as his own character.

👤 | Sarah

I know Stuart's been through a lot – but I still don't trust him!

Everything that Mick does makes for a nail-biting episode

SUPERSTAR SIENNA

Just when I thought Sienna's life in Hollyoaks couldn't possibly get any more outrageous, she goes and bumps off her serial killer daughter Nico! Actress Anna Passey is so brilliant at what she does that no matter how far-fetched Sienna's plots get, I simply can't take my eyes off her!

👤 | Odelia

I think that baby Victoria will be much better off without a mum like Nico!

CRUEL INTENTIONS

It serves Toyah right if Peter deserts her. She's been telling him a pack of lies for months. She was more concerned about getting a baby for herself than what was best for him. As for Eva, she can hardly expect Johnny and his family to welcome her with open arms after Aidan's death. Why did it take her so long to reveal the truth when she knew they were suffering?

👤 | Stephen

I think Eva was suffering just as much as the Connors were!

Ned has a light side and a dark side

SEEING NED

Thank you, Neighbours, for finally bringing back Ned! He's been one of the most interesting guys in the show over the past few years, so now he's returned, I can't wait to see what secrets he's hiding!

👉 | Jenny

Something tells me Ned has a lot of skeletons in his closet...

CLEAN EATING

Emmerdale's Sarah is in hospital with heart failure, so why are people plying her with junk food?

First we had Joe buying her doughnuts, and then Ross buying her a giant-sized packet of crisps. I know she needs cheering up, but a bit of good nutrition wouldn't go amiss!

👉 | Linda, Sheffield

A few bars of chocolate are the least of Sarah's worries!

QUEEN LEAH

I hope that the Home and Away writers come up with a decent storyline for Leah soon – she's being wasted right now.

Ada Nicodemou is a great actress. I'd love to see Leah become the new Pippa, and foster a whole house full of children!

👉 | Belinda
Definitely! Any kid would be lucky to have Leah as their foster-mum!

ILLUSTRATION: ROD DAVIS

'BERENA' 4 EVER

The chances of Holby City's Bernie and Serena making their long-distance romance work didn't look good – but the popular pair proved that true love really does conquer all. Hooray!

The Berena reunion in Holby City was fantastic! Over the course of both episodes, I feared for their future together, knowing Jemma Redgrave (Bernie) was only back for a short spell. But now, I have no doubts. Jemma and Catherine's [Russell, aka Serena] performances are always so passionate that clearly they're as committed to this plot as much as we are.

👉 | Beth, Cardiff

Good on Holby City for seeing Bernie and Serena's romance through and working around the actresses' breaks from the show. I was worried that the decision to feature a lesbian storyline between two older women was done purely for ratings, and it would have been very easy to leave Bernie out in Nairobi. So thank you Holby for such an amazing pay-off!

👉 | Jess

Although, some of us will never be content until we've seen that Berena wedding...

I'm pleased that Bernie and Serena left things on a great note, but it's still not the same as having Bernie on the ward as a regular character. We all know this is the last we'll see of the pair together for a while, when really I'd love to see them get hitched!

👉 | Amber

I'm a diehard Berena fan, so I'm ashamed to admit that I enjoyed Fleur Fanshawe's brazen flirting with Serena! The cheeky little showdown that she had with Bernie was absolutely priceless!

👉 | Claire
Agreed! Bring both Fleur and Bernie back for the ultimate love triangle, we say!

“I’m only half the bitch Alya is!”

WILL ALYA BREAK UNDER THE PRESSURE OF BEING UNDERWORLD BOSS? SAIR KHAN TELLS US WHY HER ALTER EGO HAS BECOME A TOUGH COOKIE...

CORONATION STREET | ITV MONDAY

Phone a friend: But who has Alya's back in her time of need?

Aidan and abetting: Alya's pal clearly respected her enough to trust her with the factory

Well, it's Alya against the Connor family – quite scary! Though doing those scenes with Ali [King, who plays Carla] was an amazing experience. My adrenalin was at an all-time high – I was shaking afterwards! It took me a while to calm down. Alya once thought that Carla had a bit more class – but her tactics have been underhand, and Alya is just completely shocked that Aidan's wishes are being so disrespected. As it puts everyone else's jobs at risk, Alya is stunned by what's happening.

Alya hasn't had it easy – she's had so much loss and darkness

Do you think Alya is a good role model?

It's hard – she's fundamentally flawed and this isn't the journey I thought Alya would have taken. She's had so much loss and darkness. Soon after she lost her mum, her dad died too, and that had a significant impact. Then when her grandad cheated, all her core beliefs were rocked and that hardened her. She'd done everything by the book until that point, but bad things were still happening to her. It's created an edge to her – why should she do the right thing if nothing goes well for her?

What kind of reactions do you get from fans?

Everyone has been lovely – to my face! I know it's controversial and Alya isn't the easiest character to get along with – I'm much happier and nicer in real life. I'm only half as much a bitch as Alya!

Tom Spilsbury

You have to feel a bit sorry for Alya Nazir. In this year alone, her boyfriend Luke was murdered, and her pal Aidan took his own life. The one glimmer of hope in all this was when she was named the sole beneficiary of Aidan's will, inheriting the knicker factory.

However, her inheritance has brought out jealousy in others – notably Carla, who believes that Underworld should stay in the Connor family. This week, Carla steps up her use of Beth and Kirk as her spies on the inside – but as she piles on the pressure, will Alya crack? We caught up with Sair Khan, who plays her, to find out if she feels as much sympathy for Alya as we do...

Does Alya have what it takes to successfully run Underworld?

When she first came in, she was ambitious. She still has that passion – although it may have been dampened by all the deaths! It's been hard for Alya, but her mind is now back on track. She's definitely capable and she's very intelligent. After all, she was running the business with Aidan before Carla came in and changed everything!

So does Alya see this as a way to prove her doubters wrong?

When Aidan left her the factory, she felt it was proof that he really believed in all the work they'd been doing together. They had a shared passion and understanding, so she wants to continue that work.

How have the scenes been where Alya is standing up to Carla and co?

Does Alya have much support?

She has her family's backing, but the factory staff are tougher to get on board. When they're taking the mick, Alya finds it offensive, so she cracks the whip! She also has an unexpected ally in Sarah, which is odd given the history with Gary.

Are you defensive of Alya?

I really am, yeah! I have to be. As an actor, I have to put myself in her shoes and justify actions which can be questionable. I don't think anyone wakes up in the morning and thinks, 'I'm just going to be a bitch'. Alya hasn't had it easy.

Nazir and loathing: Alya and Carla are at each other's throats

Could Alya NICK Nick?

Since losing Luke, the only bloke Alya has entertained is rapist Josh, and that didn't end well! Instead of looking for love, she's thrown herself into her work at Underworld. But surely it's time for a bit of romance?

"I was having this conversation in the Corrie canteen recently," reveals Sair. "I want a positive outlook in Alya's life. And a good romance is always fun!"

The word on the grapevine is that Nick Tilsley is returning to the cobbles soon. And as he's Carla's ex, surely it would set the cat among the pigeons if Alya were to hook up with him?

"Well, I'm all for unlikely pairings!" says Sair, mischievously. "It's true that both Alya and Nick are ambitious. And Alya is always happy to annoy Carla. Hmm... we shall see."

AS DAVID PLANTS A KISS ON MAYA,
EMMERDALE'S MATTHEW WOLFENDEN TELLS US THAT HIS CHARACTER HAS REALLY BLOWN THINGS THIS TIME...

If there was a prize for the biggest idiot in soap right now, it would hands down go to David Metcalfe. He's well and truly messed up things with his wife, Tracy, by not standing by her when she needed him most – and this week, he blows any chance he had of winning her back by launching himself at another woman!

But while it's hard to have any sympathy for a man who's behaved so appallingly, Emmerdale star Matthew Wolfenden – who plays the shopkeeper – admits that he can see where his misguided alter ego is coming from...

"David's shot himself in the foot, and he knows there's no coming back from that now," explains the actor, as we chat to him about David's latest love drama. "He blames himself completely for his split with Tracy, though he thinks that he had a right to feel the way he did. It must have been a huge shock for David to find out that his wife, who he was madly in love with, used to be paid for sex. However, he knows that he dealt with the whole thing in the wrong way."

Despite the amount of hurt that David has caused Tracy, the two of them ended up together again recently, leading David to think there was a chance of a reconciliation. He was gutted when Tracy broke the news that their liaison was a mistake, and she had no intention of repairing their marriage – which is what leads him to make a move on Dr Cavanagh's wife Maya this week!

"Maya comes into the shop and she's quite upset," reveals Matthew. "She confides in David that her marriage isn't going very well, and obviously David's marriage is over as far as he can see. So there's a little bit of a moment between them when they look into each other's eyes and there's a spark there."

"They have a glass of wine, which turns into a bottle, and then another bottle," continues the star. "They're getting a bit tipsy and flirting with each other, and David's feeling a bit amorous – so he leans in for a kiss."

Kiss of death: David's ill-advised smooch means the end of his marriage

Unfortunately for David, that's the moment when Dr Cavanagh walks in! And he's really not happy to see his mate cracking on to his missus.

"He tries to punch David!" exclaims Matthew. "David genuinely says to him, 'I'm really sorry, it wasn't her fault, please just blame me' – which the doctor does! As he swings for David, Maya gets in the way and it all blows up. And obviously in true soap style, Tracy walks in and overhears David confessing everything!"

Unbeknown to David, Tracy was on her way over to apologise, and let him know that she's willing to consider giving things another go! But all hope of them ever making up is shattered after Tracy sees what's been going on.

"That's the final straw for Tracy," sighs Matthew. "I think if David trying to kiss Maya had never happened, they might have given it another go. This is it – Tracy takes her wedding ring off and throws it at David! He's gutted."

As devastated Tracy tells Vanessa she's starting divorce proceedings, it seems there really is no going back for the Metcalfes now. And Matthew tells us that he's disappointed that his alter ego has messed things up so royally.

"It's sad for me not working with Amy [Walsh, who plays Tracy] any more, because we've had the best couple of years together," he laments. "She's ridiculous – we laugh at each other every second that we're on set, and I really miss that. I'm hoping there will be a path that leads David and Tracy back together, but I have a feeling that won't be for a good year or so yet."

In the meantime, it sounds as though there could be more drama in store – and Matthew is relishing the opportunity to work with some new co-stars.

"Louisa Clein [aka Maya] is fantastic," he grins. "And I've had a few scenes to do with Jonny [McPherson], who plays Dr Cavanagh, because David has a bit of a scare with the testicular cancer just after this happens. So a few days following the doc trying to punch him, David has to drop his trousers for an examination! It's all very awkward..."

Sarah Ellis

Wise WORDS

Matthew has some advice for his alter ego...

Silly David seems to be jumping from one disaster to another right now! He needs a good friend to take him under their wing and guide him – and Matthew has a few sage words for his character.

"David has probably behaved the way that 80 per cent of men would," he reckons. "It's a complete rebound effect – Tracy doesn't want him, so he jumps in feet first with Maya. I would probably say to David, just have a bit of breathing space and don't jump into something else straight away. But then that wouldn't make an exciting soap story, would it?"

Love doctor: Maya's hubby catches her and David getting cosy

LESLIE GRANTHAM

30 April 1947 -
15 June 2018

InsideSoap pays tribute to EastEnders' original bad boy...

KING of the Queen Vic

It's in no way an exaggeration to say that without Walford legend Leslie Grantham, we might not still have EastEnders in 2018. Alongside Anita

Dobson (who played his on-screen wife Angie), his brilliance as the Queen Vic's original landlord, Den Watts, helped to lay the foundations of the soap – and ended up making it a greater success than anyone could ever have imagined.

Leslie himself likened his most famous role to that of a cowboy in his own Western. "I think Den is Clint Eastwood in Pale Rider, or James Coburn in The Magnificent Seven," he suggested in 2003. "He's an easy-going guy – until he gets rattled!"

CONTINUED OVER ➤

WORDS: TOM SPILLER

Early years

Leslie was born in Camberwell, London in 1947, and at the age of 18 he enlisted in the British Army. However, in 1966 he was involved in a struggle with a taxi driver he was trying to rob in Germany. The driver was shot dead, and Leslie was convicted for murder. After serving 10 years in prison, Leslie was released in 1977. He had taken up acting while behind bars, and it would prove to be the catalyst that would help him turn his life around. On his release, Leslie went to drama school, and won a handful of small television roles in the early 1980s, including Doctor Who in 1984. But it would be his casting as 'Dirty' Den a year later in BBC1's new soap opera EastEnders that would come to define him.

Winning over the nation

In the opening few years of EastEnders, bickering Den and Angie were unquestionably the stars of the show – so much so that by Christmas Day 1986, less than two years into the soap's history, more than 30 million viewers watched Den hand his wife divorce papers with the famous line, "Happy Christmas, Ange." It was one of British television's biggest-ever audiences, and stands alone as the largest for a soap episode. By the time Leslie departed EastEnders in February 1989, the soap was well-enough established to survive his exit. Nevertheless, Den's 'death' – apparently shot by a hitman with a weapon concealed in a bunch of daffodils – was another of the soap's most memorable moments. Viewers heard the sound of a gunshot and then a splash, as Den apparently fell into the canal. However, his body was never found, which meant that there was always a possibility that he could one day make a return to Albert Square...

Scene it all: Millions watched Den serve divorce papers to wife Angie Telly legend: Leslie had roles in a number of shows before EastEnders – including Doctor Who!

Back to Walford

Dirty Den's return to EastEnders finally happened an incredible 14 years later. It was revealed that Den had faked his own death and fled to Spain – but with the immortal words, “Hello, Princess,” he walked back into daughter Sharon's life, and back into the hearts of the nation. This time, Leslie's spell in Walford would be short and sweet. Less than 18 months later, Den was killed off for a second time, bludgeoned to death by second wife Chrissie (Tracy-Ann Oberman), 20 years to the day since his first appearance. The murder, cover-up, and eventual discovery of his body under the floor of the Vic's cellar, was another classic EastEnders storyline.

Happy families: Leslie leaves behind three children

PHOTOS: GETTY, RED/SHUTTERSTOCK, MIRRORPIX, CAPITAL PICTURES

A lasting legacy

In real life, Leslie enjoyed a 32-year marriage to Jane Laurie, and the couple had three sons – Spike, Jake and Daniel. Sadly, the pair divorced in 2013, and Leslie remained single during the final few years of his life, joking: “I’ve messed up so many people’s lives, why mess up someone else’s? I don’t get lonely, because I have friends.” Leslie died aged 71 – but through Dirty Den, he will forever be remembered as one of the finest and most entertaining villains in soap history.

Back by popular demand: Leslie made a return to EastEnders after 14 years away

LESLIE REMEMBERED

His co-stars pay tribute...

ANITA DOBSON Angie Watts

“He will be a legend in TV history. The time we had together was amazing, and the chemistry extraordinary. It was very memorable, and I won’t forget him. I’m sorry that I didn’t get to touch him and say goodbye. I’ll always remember him with his hands in his pockets. He was a charmer and a rogue, and he’ll always be remembered as that.”

LETTITIA DEAN Sharon Mitchell

“I have special memories of working with Leslie, and will cherish them always. He and Anita looked after me in my early days, always with care and kindness. He never failed to make me laugh, and I will remember him with love, affection and gratitude forever. See you up there, Leslie! Thank you for everything.”

TRACY-ANN OBERMAN Chrissie Watts

“Really sorry to hear about Leslie Grantham. A very, very good actor, and one who created an iconic character with Dirty Den.”

JOHN ALTMAN Nick Cotton

“Sad to hear about Leslie Grantham. I have fond memories of driving to work with him, and our time filming in Dartmoor Prison! Rest in peace.”

JUNE BROWN Dot Branning

“I was very fond of Leslie, and am so sorry he has gone. I enjoyed talking to him – he made me laugh, and always had a twinkle in his eye when he said outrageous things. He was a wonderful actor, witty and very talented.”

GILLIAN TAYL FORTH Kathy Beale

“I am deeply saddened to hear the news. I have so many happy memories of working with Leslie. He was great fun and we shared many laughs. Those iconic Christmas episodes are legendary, and they will always be part of EastEnders history. My heart goes out to his loved ones.”

10 totally true FACTS about... David Neilson

YOUR InsideSoap BRIEFING ON THE MAN BEHIND CORONATION STREET'S ROY...

1 David Neilson was born on 13 March 1949 in Loughborough, Leicestershire – and although he harboured ambitions to become an actor from an early age, he initially made ends meet by taking on various other jobs, such as a barman, a gas-fitter and an ice cream seller! He studied at the Central School of Speech and Drama in London during his early 20s, and made his TV drama debut in 1976 in an episode of the long-running police drama Z Cars. Guest spots in Survivors and Secret Army followed later in the decade, and by the 1980s and 90s, he was popping up in all sorts of things!

2 David made his Street debut as Roy Cropper in July 1995. Initially mentioned as a tenant at Mike Baldwin's flats at 5 Crimea Street, Roy made sporadic appearances before becoming a more familiar face on the cobbles. However, it wasn't until 1998 that Roy truly made his mark, when he met and struck up a relationship with Hayley Patterson (Julie Hesmondhalgh), a pre-operative transgender woman. Although Roy initially reacted badly to this revelation, their romance soon blossomed – and by the time that they unofficially 'married' in 1999, they were well on their way to becoming one of Coronation Street's golden couples.

3 David is quick to credit his lengthy stay in Corrie to an idea suggested by his wife, Jane. "Roy was stalking Deirdre, and was a bit scary," David recalled of Roy's early appearances. "My wife's a special needs teacher and worked with people with autism. She said Roy could have Asperger's syndrome, making him socially inept, rather than menacing. It's not mentioned, but it gives him reasons for his behaviour."

4 You'll almost certainly have forgotten this – unless you have a very long memory – but back in the early 1990s, David appeared in *EastEnders. "I was a character called Mr Webster, trying to buy Nick Cotton's house," he recalled. "I was only in it for a couple of episodes – and I was brilliant! But the script editors decreed that the purchase should not go through and so the bubble was pricked on an embryonic soap legend."

5 David likes to use his late mother's shopping bag in Coronation Street, because he reckons the bags provided by the props department just aren't sturdy enough! The actor's mother passed away before he even joined the show, so the handy carryall is now several decades old. "That bag was taken around Loughborough Market for many years," says David. "I'm not sentimental about it, but it is a good bag. I know the feel of it when I pick it up!"

6 After being recognised as Roy, David moved to Spain in 2002.

"I needed to get away from Roy and be myself, and they don't know Roy in Barcelona," he explained. "Another reason we moved was for excitement. It's been good to learn a language and get into a different culture. Even at my age, I'm still trying to learn the guitar!"

7 While he's best known for playing Roy Cropper, David once took on the guise of another

Roy altogether – Roy Orbison! He explained that the legendary American singer-songwriter is one of his musical heroes. In 2003, David took part in a Stars In Their Eyes soap special, stepping through the famous smoke to perform a jaw-dropping rendition of You Got It. But perhaps Crying might have been a better choice, as he was beaten by his 14-year-old co-star Richard Fleeshman (who played Craig Harris), performing as Will Young!

8 Devoted Leicester City FC fan David couldn't help taunting his co-star Melanie Hill (Cathy), when his beloved Foxes pulled off their unlikely Premier League triumph back in 2016. While he jubilantly waved around his Leicester flag, Melanie laughed off his gloating – she's a supporter of Sunderland, who were languishing at the bottom of the league table at the time!

9 Every year, David takes part in Birch's Annual Run for the LCFC Foxes Foundation at Leicester's King Power Stadium – to raise money for awareness about prostate cancer. By participating in the gruelling 90-minute run, David has raised thousands of pounds for local charities. Bravo!

10 As Roy, David has been put into all sorts of amazing situations by Corrie producers, but we wonder what he thought when they asked him to wear a frock for their Christmas panto. On Boxing Day 2005, David joined his cast mates in an hour-long special production of Cinderella for ITV, taking on the role of Camilla Hardup – complete with bright pink hair and an audacious dress and stockings featuring every colour of the rainbow (pictured far right). However, he was still most definitely the looker compared with fellow ugly sister Malcolm Hebden (Norris)!

Fighting the good fight: Maggie's battle has inspired viewers

"Maggie wants to survive more than anything"

KESTIE MORASSI TELLS US WHAT IT'S BEEN LIKE TO PLAY OUT MAGGIE'S CANCER BATTLE...

Summer Bay is famous for many things – sun, sea, sand, sexy men – but something it doesn't seem to have much of is regular families. With disjointed clans like the Braxtons and Morgans having dominated storylines in recent years, there's been a real lack of parent-child plots in the Bay. All that changed when the Astonis pitched up last summer.

"The Astonis have struck a chord with a lot of viewers," shares actress Kestie Morassi, who plays mum Maggie.

"It's really about the family unit. They're so tight, and they are confronted with issues that every normal family goes through in one way or another."

The biggest problem the tight-knit brood has had to face recently is Maggie's battle with cancer. As she's been put through the wringer, the whole family has been forced to face up to her mortality.

"Maggie is becoming more aware that every single moment is precious," admits Kestie. "She's grateful to be alive, but everything is so uncertain. Maggie wants to survive more than anything, for her family as well as for herself – however, she also feels she has to face the reality of death. She's practical – and a realist."

The family finally has something to celebrate this week, as eldest daughter Ziggy asks boyfriend Brody to marry her (see p35)! But while the clan has endured tough times recently, Kestie says she's thrilled to have been given such a gruelling storyline.

"Honestly, it's been incredible," she grins. "Every actor wants the chance to play an emotionally charged role – and cancer affects so many people. It's an honour to represent something that millions have struggled with. I hope viewers can relate to, and find solace in, the Astonis' journey."

The one thing we love about the family is how they pull together. And if you think the chemistry between them seems unbelievably real, it's because the foursome are the best of friends off screen.

"We adore each other, and have from the start!" confirms Kestie. "We have a regular Astoni family dinner where we get together at someone's house. Whoever's house it is makes the main course, someone else brings entrée, and someone brings dessert. Anna [Coquerel, who plays Coco] and Sophie [Dillman, aka Ziggy] bring board games, so we eat and then laugh our heads off playing games! We see each other a lot outside of work – I consider them all my close friends."

A family united: Maggie's story has seen the Astonis bond

“Rick Astley hasn’t replied to my tweets!”

But Hollyoaks star Daisy Wood-Davis is never going to give up on the 80s pop star...

I imagine being kidnapped by Duncan from Blue, then locked in a basement with Rick Astley! It was all in a day’s work for Hollyoaks star Daisy Wood-Davis, who plays Kim...

We loved the scenes of Kim in the basement with the Rick Astley poster! Did you enjoy them?

I thought it was brilliant! It brought a bit of amusement to the scenes, but also some depth – Kim was at her lowest point, and we all need someone to talk to. It’s quite difficult to have a conversation with a piece of paper, though!

Did you have any feedback from the man himself?

I’ve tweeted him several times, but he hasn’t replied! I was hoping he’d make a cameo in the show – it would be great to have him as a figment of Kim’s imagination.

Kim’s not been coping well since her ordeal, has she?

No, it’s a huge thing for her to overcome. It’s like being a goldfish who’s been let out into the sea. It’s completely overwhelming for her.

Would you like to have more scenes with your boyfriend Luke (Jerdy, aka Jesse)?

It’s nice to keep things separate – it’s good to get home and have stuff to talk about with each other. I get quite nervous when I work with Luke – I’m not used to being professional around him!

EVE MOREY

Neighbours' Sonya Rebecchi

...faces your questions!

Sonya's life has been one drama after another recently, thanks to wicked Andrea. So star Eve is thankful to take a break from it all while she answers your questions...

"Would you like to see the real Dee come back to Ramsay Street?"

As Eve, yes I would. I truly believe that if Dee is who she says she is, she'll be really happy for Toadie. I reckon that the real Dee and Sonya would probably get along very well. They're both lovely and reasonable women, so I think it could be quite nice. But it would be a lot of drama, as I'm sure you can imagine!

"Would you like to see Dee come back?"

"Now Steph has gone, who would you like to be Sonya's new BFF?"

I'd love to do more scenes with Zoe Cramond, who plays

Amy. She and I are friends in real life – we see each other outside of work, but hardly see each other at all at work because we're just never in the same storyline. So that would be fun. I had no idea about her shoplifting plot until we caught up the other day!

"How is it having Scarlett Anderson (Nell) as a screen daughter?"

She gets more gorgeous as she gets older. Scarlett is such a lovely and intelligent little girl – she's really engaging, and asking lots of questions now. She refers to Ryan [Moloney, aka Toadie] and I as "Dadda" or "Mumma", so that she never slips and calls us by our real names. But she's now getting to an age where she's like, "So what's your name in real life?". We're always very excited when she comes on set.

All smiles: Eve loves acting alongside Scarlett Anderson (Nell)

"Who makes you laugh the most on set?"

I don't think they're aware of how stupid they get, but Ryan and Scott [McGregor, who plays Mark] are really funny. With the surrogate storyline, I was always thinking, 'How are we going to do this?'. But then when we all came together, it was actually a lot of fun because those two just become total idiots, really!

"Your husband (Jonathan Dutton) used to be in Neighbours as Toadie's cousin, Tad. Would you like to see him return to the show?"

That would be pretty funny! He's just finished a block of directing, so he does still come back to Neighbours for work. It's always nice to have him on set so we can be like, "Hey, there's no kids around, we can have a conversation!". So in that way, it would be quite cool.

Dee-lightful: Eve can think of nothing better than to have Toadie's old flame return

Fang-tastic: Eve had a devilishly good wedding

“Is it true that you had a Halloween-themed wedding?”

Yeah, I did! It was at the Melbourne Jail, which is where Ned Kelly was held and executed – so in some ways, it was in incredibly bad taste! But we did it because one of the first times that Jonathan and I went out together was on Halloween. We were both out with mates in Melbourne and I rocked up dressed like Marie Antoinette in a big white wig, and he was like, “Oh my God, who is this woman?”. So there was a bit of a story around Halloween for us.

“I loved the gangster character you played in the online show Neighbours vs Time Travel. Would you like to see Sonya go over to the dark side?”

Oh, I’d love it! I’ve asked the writers so many times, “Please give me some kind of brain condition which means I can be an evil version of Sonya!”. I’d just love to play something like that. But they’ve kind of already done it before.

“Is it true that you once starred in Home and Away?”

Yes, I did. I just played a guest role, with Jodi [Anasta, who currently plays Neighbours’ Elly]. Her character Martha was going out with this dodgy guy, she was becoming a pole dancer – and I came in as this guy’s ex-girlfriend, who was a drug addict and demanding money. I was basically Sonya back in her 20s!

“Sonya runs a nursery, but are you green-fingered in real life?”

No. I really want to be, though – it’s aspirational for me. I’d love to have lots of indoor plants like Sonya does. We hopefully want to move somewhere that we can have a big garden and veggies and that kind of stuff – at the moment, we live right in the city, with just a tiny little courtyard that has fake grass. We have a few herbs, though!

“Who makes you laugh the most on set?”

“Which of your former co-stars do you miss the most?”

Probably Alin [Sumarwata], who played Vanessa. She’s a close friend of mine and I miss seeing her every day. And

Making their Mark: Scott McGregor and Ryan Moloney (Toadie) were a hoot during the surrogacy storyline

I also miss Gemma Pranita, who played my sister Jade. I had so much fun with her. She went to LA, but she’s back in Sydney now and has just had a baby girl. And Alin’s off doing Strike Back being a complete badass – she’s phenomenal.

“I read an interview in Inside Soap where Olympia Valance (Paige) and Mavournee Hazel (Piper) said how much they admire you. What’s it like to be a role model to your co-stars?”

It’s incredibly flattering. Those girls are awesome, so it’s lovely to hear that from them. I don’t get to do a lot with Mavournee, although I’d like to work with her more. I try not to be preachy and give them too much advice – I don’t want to be seen as this older person telling them how to live their lives!

“Can you tell us a secret about Ryan Moloney, who plays Toadie?”

...asks reader Kat Wilson from Bristol

SMASHING HITS!
THE 80s POP MAP...

TRAVELLER'S TALES

ROMESH RANGANATHAN TELLS US WHY HE'S TRYING OUT UNCONVENTIONAL HOLIDAY DESTINATIONS...

We've long thought that the celebrity travelogue racket is a good one to get into: being paid to travel to exotic destinations, stay in the best hotels, and get access to areas that normal tourists don't get to look at? Sign us up, quite frankly.

Spare a thought for Romesh Ranganathan, whose new travel series for BBC2 doesn't quite fit that template: instead, he'll be visiting places that probably aren't high on your travel list because, while they're beautiful, they can also be quite risky...

"The idea behind the show was to look at places that people didn't tend to go to," Romesh tells Inside TV. "There are certain countries people think are dangerous, or ropery, that have had famines – they've got stereotypes about them. The idea is to look and see if they're warranted. I'm not a very good traveller, I'm not somebody who'll go, 'It'll be all right, we'll just slum it', that really irritates me. We felt I'd be a good litmus test for those kind of places!"

The three countries featured in the series are Ethiopia, Haiti and Albania, with Haiti as the first stop – but things don't get off to the best of starts when, boarding his flight, a woman tells Romesh about the chance of him dying during his visit...

"That conversation really did freak me out," admits the star. "I spent the whole flight thinking, 'Oh God, I don't know what I've got myself into here', and when you arrive in Haiti, it's full-on. In Port-au-Prince [the Haitian capital] in particular, you're just seeing intense poverty, you're seeing people piled on top of each other. Until I got to the beaches, the sense of being overwhelmed by it all didn't really leave me."

One aspect that left Romesh quite uncomfortable was turning up to film these scenes of poverty for television.

"You're seeing these horrible conditions, and you're aware of the fact that you're not there to do anything about it," he muses. "You start to think, 'This feels really voyeuristic and I'm not entirely sure how I feel about filming it'."

Although he had misgivings about the trip, Romesh tells us that he took a lot away from the experience – and he has one key tip for anyone following in his footsteps.

"I don't want to become that person who, when someone pulls out a biscuit, then goes 'I don't know if you know how that biscuit came about, but it's actually from a small tribe in the south of Ethiopia'. So my travelling tip would be to be wary about talking about it too much when you get back!"

“YOU’RE SEEING INTENSE POVERTY, PEOPLE PILED ON TOP OF EACH OTHER”

It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia

I'm a bit slow on catching up, but I'm watching It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia and it's brilliant. A really young cast wrote and produced it, so you can tell that it's come from their hearts and minds, and it's really good, really funny and very witty.

I thought The Split was excellent. It's so refreshing because it's about a female-led law firm, so all the main characters are female. Nicola Walker's character represents the woman so you get to see more of her story, you get to see loads of brilliantly-written female characters on screen. It's so refreshing and definitely the way forward.

A Simple Plan was the last film I watched. I saw it 20 years ago in the cinema with my dad, so I decided to stick it on when I saw it on iPlayer. It's so tense – I was watching it with my partner and he fell asleep, and I couldn't bear to watch the rest of it on my own as it was causing me so much anxiety, so I had to turn it off!

If I could be in any other show, I would love to be in The Bridge. That's despite the fact that it's Scandinavian, and they've just aired their final series! There are so many great shows I'd love to be in – it's a really difficult question.

MasterChef's always a good one to watch when we're relaxing in the evening – we tend to cook a meal and then sit down in front of MasterChef to eat it and feel quite inferior as cooks! But sometimes you feel a bit victorious when it's all going wrong for them and they're already 20 minutes over their time...

BOJACK HORSEMAN | Netflix

WE'VE ALWAYS HAD TROUBLE persuading people to watch this series ("it's a cartoon, but it's for adults, and it's about a sad horse") but trust us when we say that it's one of the most rewarding shows we've ever seen.

BoJack was the star of a cheesy sitcom (Horsin' Around) in the 90s, and now he's a washed-up actor, bitter and deeply afraid that his entire life is pointless. One of the best portrayals of depression on TV also happens to be a very silly cartoon with lots of puns, animal sight-gags and Hollywood meta-humour. It sounds weird, and it is, but it's also really moving. Honest.

KEITH LEMON ATTEMPTS TO BREAK THE UNITED STATES - IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE...

He's in charge of some of the most popular shows on British TV including Celebrity Juice and Through The Keyhole, but there's still one thing Keith Lemon hankers for: his own US chat show. After all, how hard can it be if Brit James Corden's got one already?

Well, he's about to find out in this new sketch-reality hybrid series, where Keith heads across the pond to explore his options, and takes some of his favourite characters (including the Big Fat Gypsy Kardashians and Urban Fox) along for the ride. We chatted to Keith to find out how it went...

What inspired this show?

I go to America a lot for Through The Keyhole, so I said, "Let's try to do an American version of my sketch show". But we need to tell America who I am, so I thought if we do a reality programme of me trying to break it, then that'll

THE PEOPLE'S HISTORY OF THE NHS | BBC4 THURSDAY

ALEX BROOKER TELLS THE STORY OF THE NHS THROUGH THE VOICES OF ITS PATIENTS...

The BBC's celebration of the 70th anniversary of the NHS continues with this new three-part series that charts seven decades of socialised healthcare through stories of the people it has affected. Alex Brooker meets them to hear their tales, so Inside TV chatted to him to find out why this series means so much to him...

"Since I've been working in television, it's the most interesting show I've been a part of," he shares. "The people that I've met and the stories that have been told are amazing. The NHS has been a massive part of my life as well, that's one of the big reasons why I did the series."

Finding people with unique and moving stories to tell was a huge undertaking for the introduce me to them, and we'll put sketches in it. It's a hybrid of a show we did called Lemon La Vida Loca and the sketch show. I didn't know if it would work – but it does!

Blast from the past: Alex looks back at the history of the NHS

What did America think?

It was pretty harsh. We did a focus group when we first got there, and we cut together the naughtiest bits of Celebrity Juice, so we knew the reaction we were going to get – but oh, they set me on fire, Jesus! But one of them had relatives in Liverpool, so he knew who I was and we asked him out – he came for a drink with us, and he were a lovely fella!

Was everyone hostile?

I don't know how they take me, but they're friendly. Everyone goes on about the falseness of LA, but I quite like the falseness – at least they're not miserable, and they always say "Have a nice day!". Even if you were crap, they'd still say that you were fun.

How do you rate your chances of success?

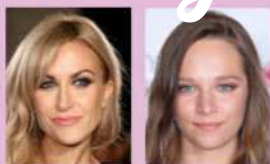

I don't expect anything will come of it – otherwise I wouldn't be here talking to you, I'd be over there hanging out with James Corden and Mark Wright! [laughs] programme, and Alex tells us that chatting to them was a real eye-opener.

"There was a lady that I interviewed called June, she told me how much it cost to get the doctor round before the NHS," he recalls. "She told me people were scared to get ill. Each time the doctor came out it was five shillings, and to put that into perspective, the rent on their house in South London was eight shillings for a month. It was something I'd never thought of before, and I felt a bit ignorant, and a bit spoilt in a way. You just take it for granted, the health care you get now."

SMASHING HITS! THE 80S POP MAP... | BBC4 FRIDAY

JUKEBOX JOURNEY

KIM APPLEBY IS ON THE ROAD DISCOVERING A DECADE OF UK POP BREAKTHROUGHS...

If you ask us, the 80s is an unfairly maligned decade – sure, some of the fashion was dodgy, but musically, it was a great time to be alive, and Britain and Ireland were leading the world in the field of pop music. In this new series, unlikely duo Kim Appleby (who had a number one hit in 1987 as one half of Mel & Kim) and Ultravox's Midge Ure head off on a road trip to explore the places that birthed iconic genres of music.

"I'd never met Midge before!" chuckles Kim. "I saw him last year, but just in the distance when I performed at [80s music festival] Rewind. If I only knew a year later we'd be working together! He's so lovely and down to earth. There were a few things I wanted to ask – especially about his moustache in the video for Vienna!"

This week's opening episode sees Midge exploring the birth of the New Romantic movement in the basement clubs of London, while Kim heads to Coventry to chat to Pauline Black, lead singer of The Selecter, about the rise of ska.

"I took her a hat," Kim tells us.

"I collect lots of hats from charity and antique shops. They don't necessarily always suit me but I can't just leave them there. So the morning I was getting ready to go to Coventry to meet Pauline, I thought, 'I'm going to take that one to her as a present' – and then she put it on and she looked stunning in it! It was all good – I was either excited to meet someone, or excited that I was going somewhere. It was a really fun show for me to do!"

ERIC CLAPTON: LIFE IN 12 BARS | BBC2 9PM

In bed with Eric

Less than a year after a limited cinematic release, this rock documentary movie gets a terrestrial UK screening.

Director Lili Fini Zanuck takes an often odd approach to covering the life story of music legend Eric Clapton – jumping the narrative in places and, sometimes understandably, avoiding tragedy that the viewer will only be too aware of. When you consider they have previous history – Eric scored the previous movie she directed, Rush, in 1991 – it can often feel strange. For example, his solo offerings are glossed over quite quickly.

If you're not a fan, this can be pretty hardgoing at times and chances are if you're a fan you'll already know much of what's presented here...

BLIND DATE | Channel 5 6PM

Things didn't quite work out according to plan for last week's mother and son double date on a cruise – well, who would have seen that one coming? There's only one person we want to see flirting on a boat on telly – and that's Jane McDonald. Back on dry land and in Paul O'Grady's shiny new studio, the Scouse matchmaker is faced with 'self-confessed attention seeker' – we'll wait while you roll your eyes – Plum. She's a model (of course she's a model...) and has the pick of an insurance broker, a security officer or plumber. We already feel sorry for the winner...

HIDDEN | BBC4 9PM

Now that this series and Hinterland have established “Welsh noir” as a genre in its own right, we thought we should look up what “noir” is in Welsh, and according to the internet (and as we know, the internet is never wrong), it’s “du”. Doesn’t quite have the same ring to it, does it? Anyway, tonight a panicked Dylan tries to do the right thing in the aftermath of the accident, but his mother’s interference makes it almost impossible for him to do so...

LOVE MEANS ZERO | Sky Atlantic 9.35PM

That’s some excellent punnage happening in the title of this doc about Nick Bollettieri, who trained tennis pros including Andre Agassi and Monica Seles. But of course success came at a cost: financial ruin and shattered relationships.

WUTHERING HEIGHTS | Drama 1.45PM

If you’re wondering just how simmering the chemistry between Heathcliff and Cathy is in this 2009 adaptation of Emily Brontë’s Gothic novel, stars Tom Hardy and Charlotte Riley ended up getting married for real. Swoon-a-rama.

POLDARK | BBC1 9.10PM

DON'T Miss!

Family misfortune

The phrase 'be careful what you wish for' has rarely been invoked so heart-rendingly as it is in this week's Poldark: having made a fine pretence of not caring for her daughter Sarah, and even making comments such as, "I live for the day the little beast runs away", Caroline is unaware that Dwight has identified that their little girl has a congenital heart defect – and is not long for this world.

While Dwight pours his heart out to Ross in the search for the best possible way to break such devastating news, George is in much better spirits as he presses ahead with his plans to ruin Pascoe's Bank (and with it, the Poldark family nest egg), and odious Ossie is determined to get rid of Morwenna – by any means necessary...

DON'T Miss!

An affair to remember

NIGHT AND DAY | Channel 4 10.15PM

Think of a sexier Silent Witness with a bit of Apple Tree Yard mixed in for good measure and you should be in the right sort of area for this new Spanish thriller, which you'll be able to watch in its entirety on All4 as soon as this opening episode finishes tonight. Accomplished forensic psychologist Sara Grau and her colleague Pol are trying to identify a male corpse that was burned beyond recognition in a car accident when Pol spots a distinctive tattoo. Sara realises that she's seen that tattoo before: on a man she had a one-night stand with a few weeks ago, while her husband was out of town...

ATLANTA | Fox 10PM

Some TV shows are deeply formulaic and give us a slight variation on the same thing every week. Atlanta is the exact opposite of that, to the extent that every time we tune in, we never quite know what's waiting for us in each half-hour, and we love it for that. Tonight's first episode sees Alfred enduring the world's most frustrating hair appointment, while the nightmarish second instalment sees a nervous Darius learning that there is no such thing as a free piano.

THE HEART GUY | Drama 8PM

Penny's back in Whyhope where she belongs tonight, but her first day back at work is a real headache when she sees the trail of destruction that Nora left behind. Meanwhile, Hugh causes problems by revealing Charlie's secret talent...

OLYMPIC DREAMS... | BBC4 9PM

"Go to hell! You were rubbish today. Total rubbish." So speak the coaches of 20-year-old Russian gymnast Rita, in this documentary that explores the brutal training regime she undergoes as she prepares to compete at the Olympics.

24 HOURS IN POLICE CUSTODY | Channel 4 9PM

Journey to the truth

Who needs racy crime dramas with fancy jackets or floppy hats when there's plenty of action to be had in real life? As this series of 24 Hours In Police Custody continues, we're definitely sparing more than a passing thought for the officers from Bedfordshire Police and the National Crime Agency who have to live this life even when the cameras aren't rolling!

In tonight's episode, a man travelling with a young woman from Bulgaria – with a one-way ticket – is stopped by officials at Luton Airport. They suspect she's being brought to the UK illegally, but when they arrest one of the men that's waiting at the airport to meet her, he claims to be her father. Only problem is, there's a language barrier to get past...

Cloak and dagger

VERSAILLES | BBC2 9.30PM

Regional variations

Time to draw daggers – in this case a very specific one, as Philippe finds an inscription on a blade that leads him to find common ground between a clandestine Catholic sect and the Man In The Iron Mask conspiracy. If he's right, it goes right to the centre of everything in the court. Elsewhere, don't call it a comeback – Madame de Maintenon is welcomed back to Versailles, but now as a permanent member of King Louis' council. And Guillaume is made an offer by the palace, one which could be extremely beneficial to him financially but it comes at a cost. Of course... Doesn't it always though?

ELEMENTARY | Sky Living 9PM

Dedication to duty is generally considered to be a good thing when it's your job to solve crimes, but Sherlock's obsessive need to catch a serial killer gives his loved ones cause for concern in this week's episode. Joan in particular is worried that he's not looking after himself properly, and she's clearly not wrong. But there's a shock in store for everyone when they work out who the killer is...

PRIVATE EYES | Universal 8PM

Maz's sister comes to Angie looking for help in tonight's episode, after an aquatic creature goes missing from Ripley's Aquarium and she needs to recover it as quickly as possible. Hopefully nobody's won it in a fairground game.

LUCIFER | Fox 9PM

Chloe, Dan and Lucifer take on the case of a young stabbing victim, and discover that she was part of a yoga group that has been flirting with seriously bad karma. But Lucifer's still preoccupied with finding out who took Azrael's dagger...

Back to school

What did people do before dating apps? Well, we could tell you, but we don't want you thinking we're ancient. Nas might be wishing things were a bit more old-fashioned after she downloads an app and falls for a beautiful woman online.

As can often be the case with the digital dating game, things don't turn out to be quite what they appear. Let's just say that when there's cats and fish together, there's going to be trouble. Never mind Nas, as people always used to tell us,

"Someone'll come along when you stop looking..."

Also, Steve invites a rugby scout to watch Cory play, but the pressure gets to the sports whizz and the whole thing ends with Steve and Kevin coming to blows. Talk about ungrateful!

Calling the shots

OUR GIRL | BBC1 9PM

Michelle Keegan fans, prepare yourselves. There's another medic in town and it looks as if he's coming for Georgie's place in 2 Section. Steady your boos and hisses – this isn't Big Brother, after all – as it's not the fault of Ruby. He's been brought in by the new leader of 2 Section, Bones. As is usually the way, the new boss is determined to make his mark and it seems as though Georgie is in the firing line – no pun intended. However, Bones has got his hands full – quite literally – when he eyes up a suspicious looking package at a gala event. Could this be an attempted assassination?

SHADES OF BLUE | Sky Living 9PM

It's the beginning of the end as the third and final season of the cop drama kicks off tonight. Well, J-Lo does have a Vegas show to get back to, after all. She and Ray Liotta return as the Brooklyn cops who walk a thin (blue) line between right and wrong. Wozniak and Harlee are still dealing with the fallout from having nearly died, but barely have time to get over that before a new mystery calls...

THE RESIDENT | Universal 9PM

The clock is ticking for a woman who helped former criminals get back on track, and it's up to Conrad and Devon to try to diagnose her symptoms. Try as they might, it's actually those ex-cons that may hold the key to her cure.

CODE BLACK | W 10PM

Willis and Rox go above and beyond the call of duty when they're summoned to the scene of a raging fire in the mountains of Los Angeles. They're actually there to tend to firefighters, but stay to help in the search for a missing boy.

THE NHS BIG SINGALONG LIVE | ITV 9PM

A chorus of support

There has been no shortage of programmes marking the 70th anniversary of the NHS over the last few weeks, but this one is taking a different approach: it isn't preoccupied with the history of the health service, or looking at the current challenges that it's facing – it's just hoping to break a world record.

In this live spectacular hosted by Ashley Banjo and Sara Cox, the NHS Choir will be joined by an array of celebrities for the biggest singalong in history: in this case, With A Little Help

From My Friends by The Beatles, from locations all across the country (including the cobbles of Coronation Street). And some of the stars lending their voices to the occasion will be revealing how the NHS has helped them...

Sent into a flat panic

STATH LETS FLATS | Channel 4 10PM

Regional variations

Shockingly, Stath still hasn't managed to let a single flat, and he's fuming because Carole keeps receiving tweets full of praise from landlords and tenants alike, while his social media impact is limited to complaints describing him as 'Greek and dangerous'. When Stath is given a flat to let on Greenberries Road ("the most elegant road since 10 Downing Street!"), he's sure that this is the turning point for him and he's going to have it off the market in seconds. But then he discovers that the outdoor space he's been selling as 'the Garden of an Eden' is far from paradise...

TASKMASTER | Dave 9PM

Assuming you've kept on top of your spreadsheets in which you've been faithfully recording the results of each task (wait, you don't do that? It's just us? Well, this is awkward), you'll know that it's still anyone's game in tonight's finale – as long as your definition of 'anyone' doesn't include Alice Levine or Asim Chaudhry. But Russell, Tim and Liza are still in it to win it (#TeamLiza) as they face their final tasks, which include blowing out a candle from a long distance...

THIS IS US | More4 9PM

Finally! Season two of the hit US drama has made it to UK screens, but because it wasn't such a big hit over here, it's been shuffled from Channel 4 to More4. As the Big Three turn 37, Randall is considering making a major life change.

JON RICHARDSON: ULTIMATE WORRIER | Dave 10PM

Jon's joined by Jack Dee and Ivo Graham tonight for a final batch of frets, all on the theme of family. For example: will Jon's wife replace him with a robot? If that's a pitch for series four of Humans, we must admit we're intrigued.

Rage against the machine

Why does the season finale of Humans come around so quickly? Don't tell us we're going to have to wait another year for more Synth action? Actually, we don't know the answer to either question, but the creators say they do have ideas for a fourth series... But before we get to that, we have tonight's episode to process.

Laura has to risk her life to save the Synths – but if that comes at the cost of her family and freedom, will she stop Blackwood and see it through?

There's a final battle – what would a nail-biting finale be without one? – and Leo, Max and Mia join forces. But will it be their last stand? More questions we don't know the answers to. Or at least, ones we won't spoil for you...

Body of evidence

WHO KILLED SHARON BIRCHWOOD: POLICE TAPES | ITV 9PM

It was a murder that left police baffled – a woman who had no enemies and no apparent problems. But 52-year-old Sharon Birchwood was found by her ex-husband, having been strangled in her own home in the suburbs. Initially the prime suspect in the case, it was later revealed that her ex couldn't have killed her – which left Surrey Police stumped. As part of the Crime & Punishment season on ITV, Susanna Reid speaks to the the police team behind the investigation. She finds out how the case took them out of the UK and to the backstreets of Thailand, before being brought to justice.

JOHN BISHOP: IN CONVERSATION WITH... | W 10PM

The critically-acclaimed chat show returns for a fourth series tonight, as host John Bishop settles down for the first of 10 new episodes. On the agenda this evening is a weighty blether with UK rap legend Professor Green. As you might expect from John, the conversation is a bit more serious, pretty eye-opening and not so much about presenting Lip Sync Battle UK with a former Spice Girl.

MOST RIDICULOUS | Comedy Central 8PM

Greg James returns to narrate a second series of the funniest video clips from the internet. We've lost many a busy day to cat videos online, so we're definitely on board for the opening episode. A selection of holiday mishaps follows after.

CHICAGO PD | 5USA 9PM

A drugs bust on a meth lab uncovers a sinister scheme where children adopted from overseas are then sold online. In order to put an end to the suffering, Atwater and Kim pose as a couple to ensnare the people behind the operation.

The Netherlands and Costa Rica were involved in a penalty shootout in the quarter-final four years ago following their 0-0 draw in Salvador. That match was most notable for Louis van Gaal's decision to bring on goalkeeper Tim Krul in stoppage time specifically to take part in the shootout, and his two saves helped his side through to a semi-final against Argentina. The winners of Group G, which featured England and Belgium, are among the teams that could be involved this evening, depending on how the various permutations pan out. (S)

THE CRYSTAL MAZE: CELEBRITY SPECIAL | Channel 4 9PM

A girl's best friend

Two of our favourite shows combine for a glorious mash-up tonight, as the cast of Derry Girls take on Richard Ayoade's gem-based challenge. Team captain Saoirse-Monica Jackson is joined by screen pals Nicola Coughlan, Jamie-Lee O'Donnell, Louisa Harland and the wee English fella (just kidding Dylan Llewellyn, we love you really) for the final episode of the current series.

After a slightly awkward team briefing where it turns out the rest of the team all said that

Dylan was going to be rubbish, and that Louisa thought they'd only win one crystal between the five of them, Jamie-Lee is the first to face the Maze. But will her mirror-moving skills be enough to get the team off to a flying start?

JANE McDONALD & FRIENDS | Channel 5 9PM

Be still our beating hearts: there are a full four hours of BAFTA winner Jane McDonald lined up on Channel 5 this evening. In fairness, three of those hours are repeats (two episodes of Cruising With Jane McDonald, and a rerun of Jane McDonald: My Life Story), but nestled excitingly in the middle of all that is the first episode of a brand-new, bumper-length series of Jane McDonald & Friends. Alexandra Burke, Russell Watson and Rose Royce singer Gwen Dickey are among the guests booked in for this series, but honestly, we're just here for our Jane belting out the classics.

ANNE WITH AN E | Netflix

This retelling of the Anne of Green Gables stories by LM Montgomery won praise when it first arrived last year for putting a fresh spin on an old classic, and capturing the novels' idealism while still addressing the harsher sides of life in rural Canada in the late 19th century. The second season drops today, and while Anne herself remains wide-eyed and spirited as ever, there are more new horizons for her to explore as her social circle widens.

SACRED GAMES | Netflix

It's another busy weekend on Netflix, as the streaming service is also releasing its first Indian original series today. This tense thriller, adapted from the novel by Vikram Chandra, follows a Mumbai city cop on the trail of a crime lord.

NASHVILLE | Sky Living 9PM

This just in from the 'oh thank goodness, finally' department: Juliette's finally realising that something isn't quite right at the Cult of Culty McCultface. But will they let her leave? Meanwhile, the tension in The Last Highways gets too much.

IN and OUT

We spin soap's revolving door...

OUT CATHERINE TYLDESLEY

(Eva Price, Corrie)

The Corrie star has shot her final scenes, and admitted it's been "emotional". But before you think that Aidan has made a shock return to the scene for his daughter, Susie, we can confirm that Shayne Ward, who played him, only made a surprise visit to the Weatherfield set to see his buddy Catherine during her last week filming.

RICHARD ARNOLD (Himself, Hollyoaks)

IN The Good Morning Britain host will appear in Hollyoaks, as the show heads to Spain. The episodes feature Jen Metcalfe's (Mercedes) return to the soap, as well as newcomer David Tag, who plays Goldie's brother Sylvie. "It's like looking in a mirror," quipped Dickie as he posted a pic of himself and the new hunk! August

SHARON GLESS (Zsa Zsa Harper-Jenkinson, Casualty)

IN Casualty has revealed that Cagney & Lacey legend Sharon Gless will be back, as sharp-witted brain surgeon Zsa Zsa. But why does Dylan's former mentor return? Later this year

NIGEL HAVERS (Lewis Archer, Corrie)

IN The cad is back! Viewers who enjoyed his recent return to the Street will be delighted that our spies have spotted Nigel back filming with Sue Nicholls. As it was Audrey who gave Lewis his freedom recently by letting him escape before lying to Gail about it, is Lewis now going to pay back her favour? Later this summer

THE EX FILES!

What are the one-time stars of soap up to now?

BARBARA AND FRIENDS!

EastEnders legend Barbara Windsor – who's known to millions as the formidable Peggy Mitchell – has been a popular lady of late, catching up with a couple of her former co-stars and a showbiz pal.

The actress – whose hubby Scott revealed earlier this year has been diagnosed with Alzheimer's disease – cosied up to Ross Kemp, aka her screen son Grant – as well as Jake Wood (Max) and his wife Alison.

"I went round for a cup of tea and I was there for three-and-a-half hours," revealed Ross. And despite Barbara's diagnosis, the actor insists that she still has her famous sparkle. "She has this great ability, when she walks through that front door, where she's 'on'. It was like seeing my second mum," he grinned.

Meanwhile, Jake – who is a close mate of Babs – simply stated when he posted his picture:

"There is nothing like a Dame!"

We couldn't have put it better ourselves.

BOOK A STEEP PRICE

by Robert Dugoni
Called into consult after a woman disappears, Tracy has the uneasy feeling this isn't an ordinary missing-persons case. When the body turns up in an abandoned well, her suspicions are confirmed, and secrets emerge...

For the chance to win a copy, tell us who plays Corrie's Tracy: A) Sair Khan or B) Kate Ford. Text ISPRIZE2, a space, then A or B and your name & address to 84988 (50p). Or see below for postal entries.

STAR CHOICE

Hollyoaks' Krupa Pattani (Farrah)

"I watched Solo: A Star Wars Story, and adored it. I had high expectations and was ready to be let down, because I thought whoever plays Hans Solo now will never live up to Harrison Ford. But Alden Ehrenreich is amazing in it – I was so taken by his performance."

HITS & MISSES!

WHAT'S HIT THE BULLSEYE RECENTLY – AND WHAT'S FALLEN WIDE OF THE MARK?

It's remarkable how easily Max and Stacey have snapped back into the 'friend zone' when, just six months ago, they were rolling around her living room floor. Anyone would think their romance was re-activated just to grab ratings at Christmas!

"Are you feeling better?" Jack tentatively asked sister Sarah, secretly praying that the words 'saviour sibling' have not yet been uttered in the Emmerdale story office.

Yes, ladies. That's the exact same face we pull when we realise the World Cup is on in place of our favourite soaps again. Boo!

We hope this bruise heals in time for Danny Dyer's trip to Majorca to grill his daughter's new pen salesman boyfriend. (And they say the soaps are far-fetched.)

"I know a thing or two about heartbreak," whined Sean. Well, he's not wrong. Getting to grips with this rolling pin is the most action he's had in years.

BULLSEYE!

While we adore seeing the softer side of Adam Barlow, such as his love for Eva and his cute friendships with Flora and Mary... can we see him do something SEXY soon, please? Just LOOK at him! All this caring and sharing is a terrible WASTE of his SEXINESS! Meanwhile, TWO women are fighting over KIRK, for mercy's sake. Sorry for SHOUTING, but HONESTLY.

Rule No 1 at Priya Kotecha's School of Business. Exploit your merchandise with an attention-grabbing display at eye-level.

Trend alert! Soap bad girls who become instantly likeable the second they reveal that they're secret car mechanics.

If this is your first time tuning into EastEnders, please do not be alarmed. No chickens were harmed in the making of the programme.

Sienna: "I know I made some mistakes as a mother." Nico: "You left me to die in a burning maze!" We love Hollyoaks.

First Aidan, then Phil, Sharon and Mel (twice) – and now flipping Ted is on the hunt for missing money. Really EastEnders, what's the obsession with stolen loot this year?

Now that Sarah has joined Izzy and Alya at Underworld, the factory should be renamed The Gary Windass Appreciation Society. How he's engineered it so his fiancée and exes all get on so famously, we'll never know!

YOU USE IT TO FACE THE DAY WE USE IT TO FACE CANCER

Self-esteem is important to all women, it just happens to be in sharper focus for those who have cancer. That's the reason Look Good Feel Better exists. We have been helping to combat the visible side effects of cancer treatment for over 20 years through free confidence-boosting skincare and make-up workshops across the UK and worldwide.
